

SUPERVISOR'S GUIDE

Welcoming New Employees

Valdosta State University

Onboarding Insight

The onboarding process is designed to welcome and orient new employees on work processes and procedures while also providing insight on the department's culture. The first day and the weeks to follow are pivotal to both you as the supervisor and the new employee. First impressions matter and that is why it is imperative that you are prepared to welcome them and ensure they have everything they need to be successful.

Checklists & Templates

We have developed resources that will help you plan for the arrival of your new employee. Completing these tasks in a timely manner will improve your employee's experience and will standardize the hiring process for all employees.

Training Resources

It is imperative that you prepare a department specific training guide to equip your new employee for their role. This will give them a better understanding of their responsibilities and help facilitate their ability to contribute to the department.

New Hire Toolkit

Taking the steps to ensure your new hire has everything they need to be successful will not only make them feel welcomed and appreciated, it will also guarantee efficiency, decrease the acclimation period, and positively impact performance.

Prepare Information

As the supervisor, you should create a new hire toolkit to enhance the training process for your new employee. This toolkit should contain important contacts, organizational charts, department processes, and other important details necessary for the day-to-day operations.

Benefits of a Successful Onboarding Process

Increase Retention

Increase Employee Engagement

Increase Productivity

Increase Consistency

ESTABLISHING TEAM NORMS

Any time new employees join the team there will be an adjustment period to learn each other's personalities. Take the opportunity to re-evaluate and update the expectations for the department.

What are norms?

Norms are a set of expectations that are decided upon by a team to influence behavior and improve the team's culture. Developing norms will also positively impact employee morale.

When establishing norms consider the following:

TIME

- How/when will we notify if we are running late?
- What is the turnaround time for responding to e-mails?

COMMUNICATION

- How will we encourage communication?
- What is our preferred communication method?

EXPECTATIONS

- What do we expect from members?
- Will there be an attendance policy? Telework option?

DECISION MAKING

- How will we make decisions?
- Are we an advisory or a decision-making body?
- Will we reach decisions by consensus?

PARTICIPATION

- Are there expectations for participation?
- How will we encourage everyone's participation?

TEAM MEETINGS

- How should we prepare for meetings?
- How often will we meet?
- Will we set a beginning and ending time?
- Will there be any follow-up?

CONFLICT

- How will we handle conflict?
- How will we hold each other accountable?
